Municipality of South Qu'Appelle.

DIVISION INTO WARDS.

The above diagram shows the division into Wards of the Municipality of South Qu'Appelle. As will be seen, the two southernmost Wards are out of proportion in size to the other Wards, but the division was made according to population, as the land is still vacant in the southern portion of the Municipality, and as it fills up the division, will be re-arranged accordingly. Ward No. 7 comprises the town-site of Qu'Appelle.

This highly enterprising little city, Vancouver, B. C., was wiped out of existence a few days ago by a fire which started in adjoining woods. It was only a few months old, but it had grown marvelously fast and contained at the time of the disaster 2,000 inhabitants. As the Pacific termini of the great Canadian Pacific it is bound to be a large and flourishing city, with a population of the most enterprising class. Already dozens of business houses and hundreds of residences are going up. There has of course, been considerable suffering, but eastern cities and towns have been very generous in sending large sums for the relief of the sufferers.
Things will hum at Vancouver for the next few years. It will become the San Francisco of Canada.— Canadian-American.

LOON CREEK.

—We intend having a jollifica-tion here on the 6th of July, as an opening to the public of the Loon Creek Bridge over the Qu'Appelle river. Various games will be indulged in, such as baseball, quoits, croquet, swinging, boating on the river etc. Outsiders gladly welcomed. Everybody come with the intention of enjoying yourselves.
Clean grounds; plenty of shade;
lots of fun. Gates open at ten o'clock.

—Owing to a mis-understanding, the notice for the poll re McLean Protestant School Debentures, held on 26th ult., was announced in our columns in accordance with an old form, and in order to prevent the possibility of future difficulty it was deemed advisable to reinstate the advertisement and call another meeting of the electors for the district, to be held at McLean, on the 24th July.

KATEPWA.

—On Sunday 27th inst., a meeting of church members was held after morning service at the Bonnycastle School house for the purpose of electing two churchwardens, and a body of vestrymen to act in connection with the next church which is about to be erected at Katepwa.
The Rev. D. Lewis occupied the chair, and the following members were present: Messrs. H. J. Bonny-castle, C. Bonnycastle, R. S. Skinner, T. G. Vidal, James Vidal, J.
Stevens, P. A. Salter, J. Salter, H.
H. Skinner and C. Geo. Bulstrode.
Mr. H. J. Bonnycastle was easily elected people's churchwarden, and Mr. Thomas Skinner was chosen by Mr. Lewis as vicar's churchwarden.
Eight vestrymen having also been appointed, the meeting adjourned after some remarks from Mr. Lewis with reference to the church.

—A grand picnic will take place at the foot of Fishing Lake on Thursday, July 15th, in aid of the church building fund, all who are interested are requested to come as a very enjoyable time will be had,
and no pains will be spared to make our visitors enjoy themselves.
Further particulars next week.

BROADVIEW.

—Three children belonging to Mr.
Moulding, blacksmith of this place, were drowned in the lake on 25th ult., by the upsetting of a boat between 7 and 8 o'clock, ages 13, 11 and 7, girls. The father's homestead is on the shore of the lake. The bodies were not recovered until Saturday morning. An inquest was held by the coroner, verdict, accidental death. The children had evidently been bathing as they were naked when found and had been playing in the boat which upset.
The funeral took place from their father's residence on Sunday afternoon. There was a large concourse of people, largest ever seen here.
Rev. Duncan Munro, Presbyterian, of Wapella, who was visiting Rev.
Mr. Evans, assisted the latter in the funeral service. Rev. Mr. Evans preached an impressive sermon from the 15th verse of the 50th Psalm. The event has cast a gloom over the people. The remains were interred in one grave side by side in Broadview cemetery, followed by eighteen conveyances.

—The ladies of the Presbyterian church had a lunch table at the manse, on Dominion Day, for the benefit of the church.

Mr. W. B. Searth has been nominated by the Conservatives to contest South Winnipeg in the coming elections for the Manitoba Legislature. The Commercial, published at Winnipeg accuses Mr. Searth of an "unpardonable eagerness for parliamentary honors." The editor of THE PROGRESS happens to be in a position to refute the accusation. Eight years ago we were present at a Conservative convention held to nominate a candidate to contest East York for the Dominion Parliament. The delegates had offered Mr. Searth the nomination, but he positively declined. Before his views were known he had been looked upon as the coming man. The candidate nominated by that convention carries the constituency, and he was not so strong a man as Mr. Searth would have been. Had he accepted the nomination, then his election would have been a foregone conclusion. A better man to represent South Winnipeg than Mr. Searth would be very hard to find.

"The Emigrant" is the name of a new journal devoted to immigration and the development of the North-West, published in Winnipeg by Mr. T. H. Carman. It is an excellently arranged and ably edited periodical that will no doubt do much to aid in bringing the right class of settlers to our local prairie lands.

Hong Kong and Liverpool must be the termini of the Canadian Pacific, said Sir John Macdonald, very long ago. And every section of the route must be fully up to the times. The passenger must find it fast, convenient and comfortable. It must in no respect have a superior. On land it will shortly be all that is expected of it. The ocean part of this route is yet to be wrought into shape. The steamers now running from New York to British ports are rather throwing Canadian boats in the shade. This state of affairs must cease—so says the Canadian Pacific management. An Atlantic steamship service is to be inaugurated that will surpass anything now in existence—luxurious and tremendously fast boats being promised. The Pacific service will be in keeping with that placed on the Atlantic and the through passenger from London and Australia will be given the best the world affords. In its experimental stage the Canadian Pacific has been highly successful. As the carrier of local traffic it has paid, if the time receipts do not lie—and we believe they do not. As a complete ocean service, such as is proposed, it will be the superior of any transportation company organized by man. Thus do slow-going Canadians that long in this world.

The Atlantic and North-Western steamers get the track laid to the

ENGLAND'S CRISIS.

CONTRIBUTED BY LEX.

It is a striking coincidence, shall we call it fatality, that at a time when Britain's noble Colonies and Dependencies have joined to pour the splendid products of their energy, industry and wealth, into the lap of her huge Metropolis, from the mother country is clasp ing hands with her stalwart sons and fair daughters, gathering to her side from their scattered houses, and when the skill of her statesmen is invoked to knit in still closer bonds of union and federation, the varied members of her world wide Empire, the people who live at the heart of the great Empire, they, who form the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, are absorbed in the solution of the momentous question—whether or not—that Union, at any rate the Parliamentary form of it, shall be dissolved, and the separation of one of its integral parts effected. The solution of this question possesses an intense interest for every member of the British Commonwealth, and every subject of the Imperial Crown.

The veteran Premier, who is nothing, if not venturesome, even to rashness, propounded a scheme to the now defunct Parliament, which was to be a panacea for the woes of Ireland. His measure in effect provided, that the Emerald Isle should cease to have a representation in the British Parliament, which, on its side, was to surrender the exclusive management of Irish affairs to an independent Legislative body sitting in Dublin. It was strenuously urged by Mr. Gladstone and his supporters, that this scheme was absolutely necessary to restore social order in Ireland, and to satisfy the demands of the Irish people, as represented by Mr. Parnell and his parliamentary following, that it would be accepted by the Nationalists as a final settlement of their claims, and be followed by the entire pacification of the country; and that the sole alternative would be a period of desperate resistance and agitation to and against the Queen's Government, and the British Parliament, only to be suppressed by vigorous coercion.

Never before in this generation has any proposal of England's Prime Minister raised such a scene of confusion and dismay in the House of Commons. The bonds, and lines of party have been broken, and obliterated. Apathetic Harrington, Tory-baiting John Bright, democratic Chamberlain, and radical Hylands, have joined voices and votes with their hereditary foes, the Conservatives, to denounce and defeat the Bill. Outside the sacred precincts of "the House," physiologist Huxley, scared from his researches into spontaneous (or evolution, athletic Lyndal from his laboratory, orator Spurgeon from his chronic gout at Montrose, warrior Wolsey from his sentry box, hunker Ludbrook, from his business and bees, one and all, in press, in pulpit, and on platform, have united to crush the proposal of the "Grand Old Man."

What has caused this strange abandonment of the strict old party cries of Whig and Tory, Radical and Conservative? And why do his late doubtful lieutenants now refuse to utter the Shibboleth of their veteran Chief?

Many are the reasons alleged for Great Britain's antagonism to Mr. Gladstone's Irish policy. The hereditary feud between Orangemen and Roman Catholics—the religious sympathy of the English and Scottish Nonconformists with their Protestant Irish brethren—the like fellow feeling between English and Irish landowners—the fear of handing over the loyal and peace-loving subjects of the Queen to the mercy of a party, amongst whom are men who view the proceedings of the Moonlighter, Dynamitard, and Boycotter, with friendly neutrality, if not with a friendly voice! encouragement—the belief, that the acceptance of the scheme by the National League is only in the expectation of further concessions yet to be extorted, as the thin edge of the wedge—is in the rivermouth heretofore to be driven home—the possibility, that in passing this Measure, the perial coercion may have to be applied to Protestant Ulster, a catastrophe which Great Britain cannot contemplate without intolerable aversion—these are doubtless reasons, which more or less have animated the spirit of resistance.

But we think that, underlying these grave objections, and far exceeding them in its weighty influence on the mind of the British Nation, exists the deep seated, and instinctive belief, that the prosperity and well being of the Kingdom, and its grand Colonial Empire, lies in union, and not disintegration, and the fear, (however idle, or sentimental, yet truly experienced), that separation at home means dissolution abroad. The British people are patriotically proud of that Empire on which the sun never sets. Whatever differences of opinion exist amongst them regarding their domestic policy, they are sunk in the inspiration of the destiny of the race, and in the determination, that no ties of party, no esteem, admiration or love for any party leader, however eloquent or supreme, shall persuade them against their true convictions, to take one step on that dangerous road which may perchance lead their footsteps to the precipice of their Nation's downfall.

MEETING OF ANGLICAN SYNOD.

The Synod of the Diocese of Qu'Appelle met on Wednesday, June 23rd. The Holy Communion was celebrated in St. Peter's church at 9.30, the Bishop being celebrant and the Rev. J. W. Sargent and F. W. Pelly assisting. At ten o'clock the work of the Synod commenced. The Bishop vested in his scarlet robes occupied a seat in front of the altar, the clergy robed in their cassocks and hoods being on his right and the laity on his left. The Ven. Archdeacon Cowley and the Rev. Akemann were invited to sit with the members.

On the proposition of the Rev. H. A. Tudor, Messrs. Sargent and Macdonald were appointed to examine the delegates' certificates. The following answered to their names: Clergy, Revs. J. W. Sargent, D. Lewis, A. D. F. Cooper, F. W. Pelly, H. A. Tudor, S. J. Field, J. D. Gregory, H. H. Smith, W. E. Brown, T. K. Lyon, S. Agassiz and W. Nicolls. Laity, Messrs. Hamilton, Fisher, (Regina); L. Gordon, King, (Qu'Appelle Station); Macdonnell, (Fort Qu'Appelle); Lake, (C. Enfield); Pearson, (Whitewood); Young, (Moosomin); and Goodwin, (Moose Jaw). The Bishop's address of which we give the substance in brief, was then delivered.

The Sunday school report was then brought up by the Rev. F. W. Pelly and after discussion, was accepted and the committee discharged.

The report of the marriage committee gave rise to a somewhat prolonged discussion and on the proposition of Mr. Fisher, clause 2 of the suggested canon was postponed, the other clauses being agreed to.

The Synod adjourned for lunch to the Leclerc house, and on their return proceeded to consider the question of finance. It was resolved to start a systematic scheme, by which a definite sum towards clerical stipends could be allowed to each district. Mr. Fisher was appointed treasurer.

On the question of the proper style and title of the "church," a strong expression of opinion was elicited to the effect that the term "English Church" was a misnomer for what was really Canadian, and an address embodying this opinion was read and heartily adopted.

The proceedings closed with the Benediction and the members separated at 6 o'clock.

THE BISHOP'S ADDRESS.

After a brief allusion to the departure of the Rev. W. W. Bolton (the first to volunteer in England for this work) the advent of the Revs. A. D. F. Cooper and W. St. John Field and the ordination of the Rev. W. E. Brown and W. Nicolls, the Bishop proceeded to deal with Diocesan Statistics. The census showed the population to be 22,083 of these 5,599 are Indians and half-breeds (2,079 being still Pagans) while on the whole one church is slightly in the majority, numbering as it does 5,722. The scattered state of the population makes clerical work difficult and indeed the same number of Clergy could attend to five times the number of people, if the population were more concentrated. There are now 639 communicants as opposed to about 300 the year before last, and services are regularly held summer and winter, in 51 places. There have been 10 priests and 4 deacons at work in the Diocese during the year. The expenditure on living agency was $9,792.25. The chief work accomplished in the last year has been in the erection of buildings, especially churches. There are now churches at Whitewood, Moose Mountain, Qu'Appelle Station, Moosomin, Grenfell, Medicine Hat, S. Chad, Kinbra, Qu'Appelle Fort. This latter is built of stone. The total cost of these churches has been $12,000, of which no less a sum than $9,338 was raised by local effort, a large proportion of this sum being drawn from England and Eastern Canada. It is a matter of deep thankfulness that the churches are all practically free from debt, a fact due in great measure to a system of judicious loans from Diocesan Funds, by which parishes were enabled to escape the necessity of borrowing at high interest. Chiefly owing to the generosity of two donors we have been enabled to erect a college for Agricultural and Theological Students near Qu'Appelle. It was opened on Oct. 28th and gives every prospect of answering the purpose for which it was built. The generous anonymous donor of £1500 towards this building, has this year again given a like sum, for the erection of a school which, it is hoped will be opened in September. Our most heartfelt gratitude, the Bishop remarked, is due to Almighty God for having put it into the heart of this benefactor thus nobly to keep the work in this Diocese. I regret that, the benefaction being anonymous, we are unable to second our thanks to the donor, as we would desire to do. And yet, to my mind this enhances the value of the gift as it thus becomes now purely an offering to Almighty God for the sake of his church in this new country. It is a noble example of unostentatious giving, which I trust will not be without its lesson on those who are benefited by it. We must not, however, allow this gift to make us forget the others who have given according to their ability.

The Bishop then alluded at some length to the question of finance. Making due allowance for sums spent on church building and for bad harvests, the contributions were disappointing. The laity did not grasp their responsibility adequately and the clergy were not altogether free from blame, being loath to press the matter home. Clergymen are tempted to shrink from this subject, because it looks as if we were begging for ourselves, but the Bishop thought they should urge and urge frequently, upon their flocks the necessity, the privilege of giving to the Lord, as part of the act of public worship. Not till this teaching was grasped, could the church be said to rest upon a substantial basis. All that the Diocese had to rely upon was $4000 from the Society for the Propagation of the gospel, another $2000 for the income of the bishop (which was paid in to the general fund and which at any time came with his death) and a further $2500 from the Private Fund, which was precarious and for the most part only offered for five years. This statement showed the necessity of local help. The Bishop hoped that in any scheme the Synod submitted, they would avoid two evils—a too great lowering of the stipend and a drifting into more congregationalism, which would in great part do away with the freedom of the clergy and be contrary to the idea of diocesan organization. The latter idea was that in which men gave what they could, not to men, but for the love of Christ and his church.

The Bishop then alluded to the subjects about to be brought to the notice of the Synod, to the claims of the Indians, whose lands we are inhabiting, and to the difficulties attending confirmations and concluded by invoking the divine blessing on the celebration of the day.

In all, sixteen persons have been convicted of violating the Scott Act in Peterborough. Fourteen of the charges were prosecuted by the local Scott Act Association, and two by the License Inspector.

Patrick Keely, a carpenter has turned informer in connection with the recent troubles in Sligo. He states that Patrick Curran, James Cleary and himself emerged from a tavern on Friday night and committed the outrage at the Catholic cathedral. On Saturday they collected crowds of people and harangued them, charging the outrage on Protestants and inciting their hearers to avenge the victims of the riots at Belfast. Curran and Cleary have been arrested and confessed their guilt. It is stated that the three men are all anxious to turn informers in order to obtain the reward of £100 sterling offered for the discovery of the perpetrators of the outrage.

WEBSTER'S PRACTICAL

Probably all of our readers have occasion to use a dictionary every day. In some cases words cannot be correctly spelled. In others, the pronunciation is difficult, while in still other cases the meaning is not understood. This is true, not only of children and of the uneducated, but of many of the more intelligent as well, and every one who attempts to do without Webster's Practical Dictionary attempts to do without one-half of his opportunities for intellectual improvement.

Webster's Practical is an entirely new work by the editors and publishers of Webster's Unabridged and contains more than twice the amount of matter and illustrations ever before offered for the price.

It also embodies several entirely new features which render it preeminent to such a degree that for general reference in every household, it will not pay to use even the best of the older works any more than it would pay to journey across the continent in a lumbering stagecoach, when the numerous advantages of a lightning express are available. In a hundredth of the same price and learn the particulars in regard to these new features before purchasing. Send for our advertisement.

Poetry.

The Fly Season.

Oh! Oh! the fly, the beautiful fly, He buzzes on the wall, and he comes on the fly,
To bother our table and tickle our nose,
But where he does come from nobody knows.
He is ever present in sunshine and gloom,
And the nasty little scoundrel whistles
all over the room.
We try to evade him by window and screen,
But still those same fly, forever are seen.
It is of no use a-trying, he will be there in the pie,
And everything else however hard you may try
To cover it up or protect it with cover,
You will find when you eat 'tis fly all over.
There's some that will scold and there's some that will cry,
At the trouble that's caused by the nasty little fly;
But I'm clean out of patience—I've no patience at all,
And abstractedly I gaze at those fly
on the wall.
I wish it were winter, and the flies were all gone,
And the last rose of summer were blooming alone—
At home in the snow 'twere much better to be,
Than the flies on the wall and those fly about to see.
Forgive me dear reader, for I am really mad,
But those fly creatures, trouble in summer, ain't they too bad?

KLEIN ROSE.

A CONTRAST.

Is the lot of the poor farmer's wife a hard one? There is the never-receding round of toil. While the rich man's wife takes her luxurious ease amid auspicious surroundings.
Emeline Midhurst and Mary Winham had grown up girls together in the country. Emeline had married a poor farmer, and Mary had been carried off by a wealthy townsman.
Emeline's husband lived in the country near her old home, and after eight years residence in London Mary and her husband took a property near at hand known as "the Grange." The two old friends were to meet again, but under a great contrast of outward circumstances.
Emeline was thinking of all these things as she trudged slowly along with the heavy basket of berries weighing down her arm.
Why were the call and honey of this life so unequally distributed? Why should she toil, and slave, and eat the bread of labor, rising up early and lying down late, while Mrs. Ellsworth, her superior in no one particular, sit in silk and jewels, with servants at her beck and call?
Why had she been such a fool as to marry George Lathrop, who had only his farm and his strong right hand, when, by waiting a year or two, she might have done as well for herself as had Mary Wyndham?
It was wrong—it was unjust; and Mrs. Lathrop repined bitterly within herself as she walked slowly along the broad gravelled drive with blossoming shrubs on either side, and glimpses of fountains, marble statuary, and parterres of rainbow-hued flowers beyond.
Nor did her envious pangs grow less as she approached the house. It was a stately structure of grey-stone with Venetian awnings at all the windows, and an octagonal tower rising up in the middle, with music battlements, and a flag flying out in the summer air, while on either side of the flight of broad stone steps a sculptured vase was filled with flowers and trailing plants.
Mrs. Lathrop stood hesitating where to go. She had not met Mrs.
Ellsworth since the family had come down to the Grange, and she hardly knew whether her old schoolmate would receive her as a friend, or more-ly as the farmer's wife who had contracted with Mrs. Denison, the housekeeper, to supply the Grange family with berries and cream during the season.
But the question was soon decided.
One of the Gothic casements of stained glass was thrown open, and Mrs. Ellsworth's own voice called her.
"Emeline, Emeline! Come up here!"
She obeyed, and in a moment or two was in the luxurious boudoir of the lady of the Grange.
It was exquisitely furnished with velvet and satin, and white and gold, and there were more articles of luxury scattered around than Mrs. Lathrop ever knew the names of; and Mrs. Ellsworth sat there in her midst, pale and languid looking, with her ringencrusted finger twined in one another and her embroidered wrapper falling in graceful folds around her, seeming about as miserable as woman could be.
She kissed Mrs. Lathrop, and greeted her cordially.
"Dear me!" she sighed, "how cosy you are! What would I give for such a place!"

"I'm sure you used to be free enough," said piqued Emeline.
"I never have had any health since I went to live in town," said Mrs. Ellsworth sighing, and her pale face and sunken eyes fully corroborated her words. "Ellsworth says it's all whims, and has no patience with me."
No patience with her! When could Mrs. Lathrop remember the time when honest, beaming, hard-handed George had ever failed to "have patience with her."
"He must be very cross," she said involuntarily.
"My dear," said Mrs. Ellsworth, lowering her voice to a whisper, "you haven't the least idea of it. It's scold, scold, fret, fret, the whole time. Nothing ever pleases or satisfies him. He married me for my good looks, he says, and since I've lost my red cheeks and bright eyes, he doesn't seem to care for me any more."
She wiped away with a Valenciennes bordered pocket-handkerchief the tears that were trickling slowly down her face.
"It's very hard!" said Mrs. Lathrop, marvelling within herself at this unexpected view of the reverse of the shield.
"Yes, it is!" groaned the poor neglected wife. "I sometimes am almost tempted to wish that I were dead—only then he would marry Isabel Sioane. She is in the house now, the bold-faced creature. He made me ask her down here, or he said he never would come near the Grange. I am too dull company for him, and she talks, and laughs, and sings Italian music, and contrives to amuse him."
"But your children?"
"I have none."
Mrs. Lathrop looked up with a proud maternal smile.
"I have three—the prettiest little rogues you ever saw."
Mrs. Ellsworth's eyes were filled with an envious wistful look.
"How happy you must be! My baby died when he was only one month old.
Oh, I wish—I wish I had died, too!
Nobody would have missed me."
"Don't talk so, please," urged Mrs.
Lathrop, sorely distressed.
"But it's true," sighed the forlorn lady of the Grange. "Oh, Emeline, the girls used to envy me when I married Paul Ellsworth and went to live in London, and I was elated enough.
But I would change back cheerfully with the poorest of them all. Tell me, Emeline, does your husband love you?"
"Love me!" echoed Mrs. Lathrop, proud and indignant in the same second. "He loves me better than himself."
"Then you are richer far than I," sighed poor Mrs. Ellsworth. "Are you going now? It is so pleasant to me to have some one to talk to who does not sneer at me."
"I will come again," said Emeline, kindly laying her hand in the slender palm extended to her, whose touch seemed to burn with inward fever.
"But I must go back to get my husband's dinner and see after my little ones."
How infinitely these home-treasures had risen in her estimation since she passed the great iron gates of Ellsworth Grange!
Mrs. Ellsworth took out her purse and paid for the berries.
"Oh, if I could only go out and pick berries as I used to do in the old days!" Mrs. Lathrop went home, tripping as lightly along as if her course leather shoes had been the wings of Mercury.
"I wouldn't change places with Mary Ellsworth," she thought; "no, not to walk on a floor of gold and have a king's palace over my head." George Lathrop, in his picturesque rower's costume, was sitting on the doorstep, with Josie on his lap, and Toon and Nell playing around, as Mrs.
Lathrop lifted the latch of the yard-gate.
"Hear comes dear mother!" he exclaimed jubilantly, as he lifted Josie, crowing, in his arms, and they all echoed the glad cry: "Here comes mother!"
Emeline ran forward, dropping her empty basket in the grass, and hugged and kissed every one of them as if she had been away for a month.
"My little woman," cried her husband, "I do believe you are glad to get home!"
"I never was so glad in all my life!"
cried Emeline almost hysterically.
For during the last two hours she had learned a lesson.

QU'APPELLE.

—And now 24 o'clock.
—The new terrace frame is going up at a lively rate.
—The municipal council will meet tomorrow, Saturday.
—More places of business are under contemplation of construction.
—Rebellion Losses Commission concluded its sittings here on Monday last.
—The first through train over the C. P. R. for the Pacific coast went through here last evening.

—Large numbers of our citizens went to Regina and Indian Head yesterday to celebrate Dominion Day.
—Mr. Gibson has moved into his new Bakery, adjoining Mr. J. P. Beauchamp's Dry Goods Store.

—Mr. S. H. Collins' place of business will now be found one door north of Mr. Gibson's new bakery.

—The hour of the Presbyterian Bible Class is half past three o'clock, not three as heretofore intimated.

—The crops have been suffering for want of rain, though we had a slight shower yesterday. More is needed badly.

—Mr. O. B. Davinson, D. L. S., took out a party yesterday to File Hills to make some surveys of Indian reserves.

—In another column will be found the C. P. R. Time Table under the 24 hour system. Get new faces on your watches and clocks.

—Attention is directed to the advertisements of Mr. A. Sutherland. He offers to teach shorthand and music and has an organ for sale.

—The persons losing a white table cloth and passed at the Methodist Sunday School Picnic can have them by calling at this office.

—On Wednesday last, Jas. Watt had Jas. McMullen brought before Messrs. G. S. Davidson and A. M. McLane, J. P.s, on charge of assault. McMullen was fined $5 and costs.

—On Wednesday last Constable Guernsey brought in two Indians from the north who were committed for burning a barn near File Hills. They were taken to Regina to stand their trial.

—The Methodist services on this circuit on Sunday next will be conducted by Rev. W. A. Cooke. Rev. Mr. Andrews will arrive in time to take the services the following Sunday.

—A petition is in circulation for the levying of a rate for digging a well for the town. It is thought an abundant supply of water for fire protection could be obtained at a cost of about $6000. The steps are being taken under sections 110 and 111 of the Municipal Ordinance. As Saturday (to-morrow) is the last day on which it can be brought before the Council this year, we would suggest the advisability of having it signed as largely as possible to make the necessary provision to raise the money, as it is very desirable that an ample supply of water should be available in case of fire.

—Kill the gophers; don't let them eat up your grain. As good a way as any to make sure and safe work to capture them is to procure three or four muskrat traps and set them on the little knolls near their holes. On going away, they will presently come out, and if the person attending the traps drops down and makes a noise their curiosity will prompt them to run to the highest spot and into the trap. Another way is to procure a strong poison (strychnine, for instance), and dissolve in water, and soak wheat in the solution over night. Place a dozen grains of this poisoned wheat in their holes, and they will eat it to their certain death. Twenty-five cents worth of strychnine to a gallon of water and a gallon of wheat will poison the gophers on fifty acres. Two rounds will clean out every gopher. Use an old spoon to handle the wheat to avoid contact with the hands. As this is a dangerous method it should only be used with the greatest care.

—Mr. T. Welsh yesterday brought to this office some excellent samples of wheat and barley well headed out. The barley measured 29 inches and the wheat 32 inches in length. Both had good long heads.

—Rev Mr. Lawson, who has had charge of the Methodist congregation here for the past three years, left on Wednesday morning to go to Mortden, Manitoba, to which place he was appointed by Conference. Mr. Lawson was well liked here and carries with him the good wishes of all our citizens. His successor is Rev. A. Andrews.

Correspondence.

To the Editor of the Progress.

Sir,—I would beg to call attention to the disgraceful condition of the plot of ground that the Canada North West Land Company have been pleased to set aside as a Cemetery. They in the generosity of their hearts have been selling the land at the extreme N. West of the town site in lots ten feet square, at ten dollars each, or at the rate of over $4,000 an acre. They claim that the money that accrues from all sales is to be expended in beautifying and improving the grounds after the expense of surveying the same have been paid. The Surveyor's charges must have been very high as only a very small piece of the ground has been subdivided; and yet the Company have not even taken the trouble to build a fence to protect the graves of our friends from the unhalloved tramp of wandering beasts. At least $150 must have been paid for lots by various parties—a sufficient sum at least to cover the cost of a neat substantial fence such as I suggest and defray surveying expenses besides. I trust that the Canada North West Land Co. may see fit to proceed to carry out their agreement at once or hand the ground over to the Municipal Council as they were requested to do by that body.

In conclusion I might ask why it is necessary to charge at the rate of $4,000 per acre. Would not $5.00 per lot raise sufficient money to keep the Cemetery in excellent condition if the money were judiciously expended. Yours, &c.,

PAT.

WOLSELEY. COUNCIL MINUTES.

The Council re-assembled at Wolseley, on Saturday, June 26th. Present, all the members, the Chairman took the chair at 10.30 a.m.

The minutes of the last regular meeting, and special meeting having been read and confirmed.

The Chairman reported that in accordance with instructions he had proceeded to Regina with the Clerk and had entered into agreements with Dill and Co. for proceeding with the mill, and that the agreements as prepared by the solicitor to the Municipality in accordance with the directions from the Council had been signed.

The Chairman also read two communications from Dill and Co. the first dated June 11, stating that up to that date they had not received the contract from the Indian Department and that they accordingly gave formal notice in accordance with the terms of the contract determining the same but that should the reply from the Government be favorable they were prepared to go on. The second letter dated June 17, stating they had received the contract and were prepared to go on with mill and elevator.

The Council resolved that the first notice not being a legal determination of the contract no forfeiture as provided, having been paid that no notice be taken of these communications but that Dill and Co. be held to the contract.

Moved by Councillor Nimmons seconded by Councillor Jolly, That a by-law be drafted and submitted to the ratepayers for the borrowing of the sum $1000 for ten years for the purpose of supplying water to the town and mill.—Carried.

The following committee presented their reports which were adopted. Qu'Appelle Bridges. That the contract had been let to Mr. W.

Mann, $1775 for the two bridges, same to be completed by 15th July and recommending the acquisition of right of way to McLean bridge. Clovekey bridge contract let to Mr. J. McTaggart $125 to be finished by 31 July 1886. Council between sects. 36 and 1, Tps. 17 and 18, R. 9, recommending division of road and building bridge, total cost not to exceed $50.

The following accounts were passed and ordered to be paid: John Birch, work on Qu'Appelle Hill, $7 A. Pritchard, hire of room, $1; Free Press advertising, $4; Qu'Appelle Progress advertising, By-Law, $56.75; Richardson, stationer, $3.

The account of H. Pollock was referred to the Chairman of last year's Council for explanation.

The Clerk reported he had paid to the account of the Municipality at Imperial Bank Winnipeg, the sum of $631.81 received from the Hudson Bay Co., for the leases 1885. A receipt was ordered to be sent to the H. B. Co.

On the motion of Councillor Jolly seconded by Councillor Nimmons, it was ordered that all accounts must be lodged with the Clerk at least two days prior to the Council meeting at which they are to be presented.

A petition was read from the Treasurer applying for an increase of salary and for compensation for extra work performed.

On the motion of Councillor Nimmons seconded by Councillor Jolly, the salary of the Treasurer was increased to $75 per annum and he was further granted $10 for extra work to date.

The Treasurer was directed to prepare an abstract of the accounts to 30th June, for publication, and the clerk was instructed on receipt of the same to have them printed for distribution together with the audit of last year. Councillor Nimmons enquired as to the non-publication of the minutes of the meeting of May 15th, and was informed they were daily forwarded by 17th May, and must have miscarried.

SOME IDEA OF THE IMPORTANCE

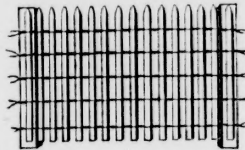

OF THE

PICKET WIRE FENCE

may be given by stating that over

50,000 MILES

were sold last year in Ohio, Indiana, Iowa, Missouri and Kansas.

The above cut represents our Combination Fence—pickets dressed and pointed.

THE PICKET WIRE FENCE

is the most suitable General Purpose Fence ever offered to the settlers of Manitoba and the Northwest.

Our Combination Fence is composed of Three, Four and Five Double Strands of the best Annealed Bessemer Steel Wire, firmly incased with Vicksburg's uniform distance. The pickets are supported by the double strands of wire in such a way that breakage is impossible, and the pickets cannot be pulled out, making a fence that will turn all stock without injury.

It is stronger and cheaper than a board fence, as the wood soon rots around the nails and needs constant repairs.

It is portable. So other fence has ever been offered which can be as easily removed or put up as this fence. The staples can be withdrawn and the fence rolled up and removed without injury.

Picks on short notice can be fenced temporarily, and the fence removed with little or no trouble. There is no other fence that will admit of this advantage.

With this fence to a great extent your fields, orchards, gardens, &c., will become private and well guarded.

It withstands all winds, and dries out quickly when wet, and if painted will last a lifetime.

It will not cause snow to drift.

Our Combination Fence is not only the best and cheapest, but its handsome appearance adds much to the value of any land it surrounds, which is acknowledged by all who see it.

It is certainly the strongest fence ever offered, as it cannot be broken, each picket being supported and secured with three or more double strands of wire; and more than this, the force of any concussion is broken by the spring of the wires; all the wires and pickets are so interwoven as to form a spring, and when drawn tight and properly put up sagging is absolutely impossible.

This fence is shipped in rolls of from two to six rods, and can be stretched complete in the same time that it takes to stretch one strand of barbed wire.

There are no barbs on this fence. The pickets used in its manufacture are made of clear dry elm, and range from three to four and a half feet in length. A three-foot picket makes an excellent fence for sheep and pigs, and the same length of picket, when raised twelve or eighteen inches from the ground, will turn cattle and horses effectually and without injury.

N.B.—We have made arrangements with the C. P. R. for a special low rate for freight on our fence.
